

Gazebo Ensemble Music and Performance
during the Leavenworth International Accordion Celebration

Our ensemble leader, Jakob Bean, has arranged a new piece to add to the Gazebo Ensemble music prepared by Lyle Schaefer and Toby Hanson. The music is the last page of the “gig booklet” and doesn’t have a page number. You’ll see it after “God Bless America” in the collection. For those who have already downloaded the music, you need only print out the last piece. For those new to the Gazebo Ensemble, the music is easily found. Go to the table of contents and you will see “Gazebo Ensemble gig book and play list”. Print out your music and begin preparing. Music will not be provided. There is a free workshop on Thursday, the first day of the Leavenworth International Accordion Celebration, to rehearse together. Also, you will find a full schedule of events and the performance times for the ensemble on Friday and Saturday. Everyone is welcome to play with the group. This isn’t a jam... it’s an “organized” ensemble of accordionists that will make music together!
